A PLEASANT TRIP.

And a Night Spent Among The Hills of Randolph.

Leaving the city on the noon train yesterday we alighted at Liberty and found the village almost deserted. Every available vehicle had been pressed into service to carry the people to preaching in the country. The hotel man, after serving a tempting bill of fare, did all he could to get up a team, but failed. The writer, in company with Mr. R. W. Finlator, made the rounds of the town without success until we found that prince of gentlemen and sterling citizen Mr. M. J. Reitzel. In a few moments he hitched up his excellent family horse and we were soon "happy on the way" to Franklinville. Mr. Patterson, a good citizen, went along with another buggy and carried a driver to take Mr. Reitzel's team back to Liberty.

We found a hospitable home with Mr. Finlator's Aunt Lumsden, where we spent a pleasant night. Along this Deep River section of Randolph are some of her best, most thrifty and prosperous citizens. With magnificent and beautiful surroundings and abundant water-power the numerous cotton mills along the river are doing well and the operatives seem contented and happy.

We anticipated a visit to what is known as "Faith Rock" but the increasing rain deprived us of the pleasure. That rock, tradition says, is the spot where, in revolutionary times, a man named Hunter, who was condemned to be shot by the Tories, by a little maneuvering, mounted Col. Fanning's horse and escaped, riding the surface of this rock at an angle of forty-five degrees, plunged into the swollen stream, swam across and escaped, afterwards fighting under Gen. Greene at the memorable battle of Guilford Court House.

These are matters of history, tradition only fixing the place where Hunter's daring leap for life was made.

A THEFT IN JAIL.

A Prisoner Steals and Conceals from Fellow Prisoner.

A thief in jail is not a strange sight, but a theft in jail is an unusual occurrence. A case of this kind has been brought to light in this city. About three weeks ago several prisoners were confined in the same cell and one day a federal prisoner who had been sentenced to the penitentiary for one year reported to the jailer that one of his fellow prisoners had stolen fifteen dollars and a gold ring from him.

Every prisoner in jail was immediately searched but money and ring were not found. They were searched a second time with the same result and the jailer then thought the prisoner was lying.

Lon Smith, who was in the cell, told that Will Harris had stolen the money, a ten and a five dollar bill, which he placed in a small crack and covered the crack at that place with soap. Soon afterwards the cell was whitewashed and this concealed the crack entirely. Just before his trial Smith says Harris removed the money with a wire. When the men were searched Harris dashed the ring through a window and it was afterwards found in the jail yard.

Harris was charged with stealing a coat from a negro here. Immediately after his acquittal he left town and has not since been seen, but if he is caught this case will doubtless go hard with him.

DEATH IN COMPANY D.

Member of Captain Gray's Company Died Friday.

A message was received here Saturday bearing the sad intelligence that a member of Captain Percy Gray's company is dead. Sample Barber, a son of Frank Barber, of Stokesdale, aged about 19 years, enlisted in Company D to serve his country and his flag; but the cruel and relentless ravages of disease has claimed him and Friday about 1 o'clock he died of typhoid fever at the hospital at Land's End, near Port Royal, S. C.

Mr. H. G. Moore, an uncle of the deceased, was on his way to Port Royal in answer to a message that young Barber was critically ill, but the grim messenger, death, reached the fevered cot first, and when Mr. Moore arrived he found only the lifeless form of the brave young man who left his home and friends for his country's honor.

HE READS THE BIBLE.

How Sam Lucas Spends His Time in Jail.

Sam Lucas, the murderer of Henry Wood, now occupies a comparatively comfortable cell in jail. Today his wife sent him two quilts, a pillow, some shirts and pants, a looking glass and a number of dishes. His meals are prepared at O'Connor's restaurant and paid for by his wife.

A Telegram reporter went to his cell with the jailer this morning when he carried the quilts, etc. Sam was sitting by the window reading the Bible and said when he heard the locks on his cell door click, he thought the jailer was coming after him and was frightened. Although he has appealed he seems to have a little hope and feels that his days are numbered. He was asked no questions and said very little except a few words to the jailer about having his cell cleaned up and when the jailer promised that this should be done he re-opened his Bible took his seat and again began to read.

London, August 29—Czar Nicholas, of Russia, has just made public a plea for universal peace, which is addressed to all nations.

It is represented at the Russian court as being the most remarkable document ever issued by the ruler of any nation. It declares for a reduction of the excessive armament which is now crushing all nations as the ideal for which all governments should strive.

The document itself is the sensation of the hour, coming, as it does, at a time when all European powers are fencing and placing themselves in a position for war between England and Russia, growing out of recent moves in China.

The President and Mrs. McKinley reached here at 1 o'clock on a special train from Washington and were met by General Graham and staff, and the first Delaware regiment, which was detailed as guard of honor. The regiment was drawn up along the road leading to camp, and when the President and other guests had been seated in open carriages the regiment presented arms and the band played "The Presidents March." Secretary of the Commonwealth Martin and Attorney General McCormick received the President in the absence of Governor Hastings, who is in the South with the Pennsylvania hospital train.

After a hurried inspection of the quarters of the general and his staff, President and Mrs. McKinley were driven through the camp. Company streets were scrupulously clean and the men looked their best. The president visited the division hospital and the hospital which the Red Cross Society of Philadelphia has established for the care of the most serious cases.

BULLET FOR PEACEMAKER.

Sad Fate of a Conductor Who Interfered to Prevent a Fight.

Macon, Ga., August 27—A special to the Macon Telegraph from Dupont, Ga., says that conductor Cason, of the Plant system, was shot and killed at that place yesterday by Mark Graham, a negro. Cason had taken a month's vacation, and was on his way to South Carolina, where he was to have been married.

When the train reached Dupont, Graham and a white boy boarded the train to get a drink of water. They got into a fuss and in the absence of the regular conductor Cason undertook to stop it. As he approached the negro drew a pistol and shot him, inflicting a wound from which he died almost immediately.

The body was taken to Waycross, Ga., where a crowd was formed and started after the murderer. Hounds were procured from McRee's lumber camp and started on the trail. The chase led towards the Florida line. If the negro is caught he will be lynched.

are words that are often heard after people have tried Orange Phosphate at our fountain. Orange Phosphate is so common that it takes something extra to call forth such remarks. ## THE "BEST AND ONLY."

The democratic machine papers and politicians are doing some mighty yelping of "nigger," but mighty little explaining why it was they refused the best and only method of settling the negro question; that is by a co-operation of the reform elements in North Carolina to win a victory for reform principles and the best white man's government the state has ever had—Caucasian.

Could blatant demagoguery be guilty of baser presumption? Wouldn't the democratic party be in a nice position to fight and vanquish the greatest enemy to "white man's government" by "co-operating" (on the basis of a division of offices) with the very men who overthrew a white man's government in North Carolina and placed forty colored magistrates over white men and women in New Hanover county and other eastern counties in proportion?

The machine of a party whose voters comprise the honest farmers and working people of the state, who joined that party from honest motives, trading with the leaders of a party of entirely opposite principles and inveigling the rank and file into voting for just what they did not want, was caught in the act of trying to SELL back to the democratic party what it STOLE away. The democratic party is opposed to rewarding infamy. That is why the Caucasian's presumptive "best and only method" was refused.

The best evidence in the world of the insincerity of the populist "machine" is the fact that another swap has been arranged between the leaders of that party and the republicans. The republicans are frank to confess they have no hope without populist votes and they are again shouting the old battle cry: "Anything to beat the democrats."

The populist leaders have paid very dear for their offices and the thirty-odd thousand votes which they bartered in treachery and delivered in infamy will hardly be placed at their "beck and call" again. The white people will get together and it will be on the basis of saving the state and not on a division of spoils.

Taking issue just here with the Caucasian we say that will be the "best and only" method of restoring good government in North Carolina.

One instance where the remedy has proven worse than the disease is the announcement in the North Carolina health report that there has been but one death in this state from vaccination and none from small pox. The Durham Record remarks that "vaccination prevents small pox from being dangerous."

The Telegram heard of the death of Ex-Judge Boykin with feelings of profound regret. One of the state's brightest legal lights has been lost in his taking away.

EX-JUDGE E. T. BOYKIN DEAD.

Dies Suddenly at Dunn Saturday About Noon.

Yesterday morning's Raleigh Post contained an account of the sudden death of Judge Edward T. Boykin, from which we make the following extract:

Friday Judge Edward T. Boykin made a campaign speech at Peacock's Store, Johnston county. It was a very fine effort, and James H. Pou, Esq., and Mr. Stephens, the latter county chairman, say it was one of the strongest speeches they ever heard. That evening Judge Boykin went to Dunn, where he had an engagement to speak yesterday. He was the guest of Mr. Lee, a friend. He told the latter he did not feel well. Yesterday morning he did not appear and his host, going to his room, found him breathing heavily and unconscious. For several hours unremitting efforts were made to revive him but in vain and soon after noon he died. Telephone messages and telegrams received here say his death was due to apoplexy.

At 9 o'clock yesterday morning a telephone message was received by Armistead Jones, Esq., Judge Boykin's law partner, stating that he was dangerously ill. Mrs. Boykin left on the first train but arrived there several hours after his death.

Judge Boykin leaves a wife and three children, two sons and one daughter, Edward T. Boykin, Jr., a private in the Greenville company of the Second regiment, now at St. Simon's Island; Swift Boykin, and Miss Leslie Boykin, the latter aged 12.

Judge Boykin was born in Sampson county forty-four years ago. His father died while he was quite young and he was reared by his step-father, the Rev. Mr. Bibb, of the Methodist church. He received his education in the public schools and studied much at home. He afterwards attended Trinity college and from his class two judges have been selected in this state, Judge Allen, of Goldsboro, and Judge Boykin. His education was obtained by hard work. He graduated with very high honors. Returning to Sampson he taught school for some time. He then studied law and studied until very late every night. He was untiring in his application. He studied law here under Smith & Strong, and obtained license in 1879.

When quite a young man he was elected to the state senate from Sampson county and was also its representative in the lower house. He was first married to Miss Bizzell, daughter of the clerk of the court in his native county and from this union came his three surviving children. At the death of Judge McKoy, he was appointed Judge by Governor Scales, and after being re-elected filled the position until nearly two years ago when he resigned from the judgeship to come here to practice law. He was associated with Mr. Armistead Jones, of this city.

Judge Boykin was married a few years since to Miss Rogers, of Concord, and his wife is universally popular in Raleigh. Judge Boykin was considered the equal of any lawyer in the state and his death takes from the Raleigh bar one of its safest counselors.

In Americus city and township, Kansas, there are living twenty-eight persons whose ages exceed 75 years. Of this number sixteen are men and twelve are women. There are fifty-seven persons who have reached the three score and ten mark, of whom thirty-two are men and twenty-five are women. Twenty-three persons aged 70 years or over live within the limits of the city.

About one month ago my child which is fifteen months old, had an attack of diarrhoea accompanied by vomiting. I gave it such remedies as are usually given in such cases, but as nothing gave relief we sent for a physician and it was under his care for a week. At this time the child had been sick for about ten days and was having about twenty-five operations of the bowels every twelve hours, and we were convinced that unless it soon obtained relief it would not live. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended, and I decided to try it. I soon noticed a change for the better; by its continued use a complete cure was brought about and it is now perfectly healthy.—C. L. Boggs, Stumpdown, Gilmer Co., W. Va. For sale by C. E. Holton.

DEAD, YET SPEAKETH.

Extract from Judge Boykin's Last Speech.

"The pending contest is for the supremacy of virtue, intelligence and the fundamental rights of citizenship. It has been demonstrated during the past few months that the negro, influenced by his inborn opposition to the white man, by the vanity which power augments and which office gratifies, and which the defeat of the Anglo-Saxon will intensify, will vote as a unit in the ensuing election. It is not the democracy that has drawn the color line. It is the office-seekers and office-holders.

"In 1896 so unified was the negro vote that the entire number of negro electors might have voted by proxy in the hands of one of their race. This could not be attributed to any injustice perpetrated against them by the whites. The whites pay almost seven-eighths of the taxes. They educated the negro as they educated their own children; they built and supported asylums for their insane and their deaf, dumb and blind; they secured them justice in the courts; they selected them as jurors; they assured them personal liberty. They have been deceived by the enemies of law and order, the white republican office hunters and their passions and prejudices have been excited against their best friends. And still, not one of them has been permitted, in all these years, to become a candidate on a state republican ticket for a state office, because the white republicans of the west could not be placated. They are rewarded by local offices in eastern counties and cities and towns, and the interests that most intimately concern the intelligence and morality and property of the taxpayers are committed to their reckless and unscrupulous hands. They are constituted justices of the peace, school committeemen, county commissioners, postoffice keepers, constables, colonels and majors and captains. They are excited and overcome by this feast of power, and racial troubles are precipitated, and helpless females are at the mercy of their uncontrollable lust.

"The salvation of the government may be determined as a result of this contest. It can be assured by the union of the white voters. There can be no reason why the populists should not unite with democrats in a contest involving the honor, the property, the supremacy of the white man. They cannot consistently co-operate with the republicans. Their policy in regard to money, to monopolies, to the tariff, to the judiciary, is totally different. They have been and are now honored citizens; they are property holders; they are white men.

"The populist party was not organized to elect negroes to office in North Carolina. And yet a fusion of the populist and republican parties will inevitably result in this since the negro will not hesitate to demand his 'rights.' And populists will not be the last to suffer from the results of this unholy rule.

"Populism was a protest against Clevelandism. This nightmare no longer exists.

"All white men who love and honor their state and revere law and good government and oppose ignorance and the blight of negro domination should vote as brothers."

The Rev. W. B. Costley, of Stockbridge, Ga., while attending to his pastoral duties at Ellenwood, that state, was attacked by cholera morbus. He says: "By chance I happened to get hold of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and I think it was the means of saving my life. It relieved me at once." For sale by C. E. Holton.

Something to Know.

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centres in the stomach, gently stimulates the liver and kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c or $1.00 per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

W. E. Manor, of Raleigh, was in the city today.

H. H. Cartland went to Raleigh at noon today on a business trip.

Mrs. J. E. DeLorme and son, Robert, left yesterday for Baltimore to spend two weeks visiting Mrs. DeLorme's parents.

The C. F. and Y. V. south bound train was an hour and twenty minutes late today, arriving at 1:15, something unusual.

In spite of the threatening weather a large crowd of people attended the camp meeting at Bethlehem, near Climax, yesterday.

Rev. and Mrs. Jesse Cunningham returned at noon today from Burlington where they have been attending quarterly conference.

The remains of Judge E. T. Boykin, who died last Saturday at Dunn, were carried through here last night enroute to Concord where they will be interred.

The third quarterly conference for West Market Street Church, will be this evening at 8 o'clock. All the members are requested to be present.

Another Norfolk excursion Tuesday Sept. 6th. Last chance to visit Norfolk this season, only $3.50 round trip. See J. H. West for full particulars.
Read ad in this paper.

Mr. E. S. Wooten, of the firm of Buchanan & Wooten, was kicked by his horse about noon today and painfully hurt. He was unbiting the animal and removing the harness when it kicked him with both feet.

Mr. W. G. Frazier has returned from New York, where he has completed a course and graduated in optics under Dr. Julius King. Mr. Frazier has charge of the optical department at the jewelry store of W. B.
Farrar's Son. See new ad today.

The city schools will open on Thursday, September 1. I hope parents will see that their children enter the first day. The regular work begins on that day. Those entering later begin work under disadvantages. A good beginning is half of the battle.
G. A. Grimsley, Supt.

James Blackwell, Robert Burton and Ira Rascoe, of Reidsville, went to Kernersville on their wheels yesterday. The rain prevented them from returning on their wheels and they came in today on the Winston train, which was late and missed connection with 36 here. The young gentlemen are spending the afternoon in the city, being compelled to wait for the 9:52
train tonight.

Experience is a mighty factor in cutting and putting down carpet. Johnson & Dorsett have furnished the carpets for the majority of the new houses built here in the last few years, and their work has always given satisfaction. They cut, fit, make, and put down every carpet sold without extra charge to the purchaser. Read their new ad today and if in need of anything call on them. You will be treated right.

Have you seen and inspected those elegant dwellings in course of construction by the Summit Avenue Building Company? There are now fifteen under construction and no two of them are alike. They will all be equipped with modern improvements, sewerage, water and gas, and the work is being well done. If you are contemplating building or buying a home it may be a saving of money to you if you will look at and investigate these buildings. They are for sale and the prices are easily within reach. Go out and see them.

The Trip Postponed.

The Alamance county "good roads"
excursion to Charlotte has been indefinitely postponed. The railroad people have canceled the contract for the present, presumably on account of the large contracts for conveying troops from the various camps, which requires the use of all passenger coaches. This trip, however, has not been abandoned, and will be made later, we are glad to learn.

He Wouldn't.

"Fellows, you wouldn't take me to be a member of a millionaire's family would you?"
"Frankly, we would not."
"Neither would the millionaire; I asked him last night."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded.
Price 25 cents per box. For sale by
C. E. Holton.

Hunting the Laundry.

Late Saturday evening a tall, heavily built boy about 18 years old, dropped into the Telegram office to have his Sunday shirt laundered.

The reporter, who was alone in the office, inquired as to his wants, when he slowly pulled a package from under his arm and said in a deep voice,
"Here's a shirt I want done up."

The reporter then wondered whether he had been taken for a Chinaman or an employee of the steam laundry, but he looked on the bright side of the question and sighted his customer to John M. Dick's place of business.

Examinations.

All white children living within the corporate limits who intend to enter the city schools next Thursday and who have not attended before will be examined by the superintendent on Monday and Tuesday, August 29th and 30th, from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m., in the Lindsay street school.

Pupils who failed to pass last session will be examined on Thursday.
G. A. Grimsley, Supt.
